Shepherd's Care Foundation celebrates successful re-accreditation as an Aging Service Network, adding new Assisted Living program accreditation as well -

Three years after becoming the first organization in Canada to be accredited for its aging services network by CARF International, Shepherd's Care Foundation has again been successfully accredited for another 3 year term, its second consecutive award. The organization is also pleased to announce that, along with the renewed aging services accreditation, it has successfully added new accreditation as an Assisted Living program – also for a 3 year term, the longest available. This second program accreditation is the result of a close review of all of the care and housing processes across all of Shepherd's Care Foundation's assisted living sites, including significant feedback from the residents, families and staff (more than 125 people talked with the surveyors). Shepherd's Care is truly pleased to celebrate its ongoing CARF accreditation, part of how it demonstrates an ongoing quest for quality, transparency and commitment to the satisfaction of the people they serve. The organization extends a special thank-you to all of residents, families, staff and other stakeholders for being part of that journey to excellence. Please join Shepherd's Care Foundation in celebrating both their aging services accreditation as well as the new milestone of assisted living program accreditation.
